

Questionnaire

Please provide your opinion to the following questions. Circle the letter of multiple choice answers.
Please give your answers to Richard J. Nelson.

1. Which quality is most important to you regarding HP calculators?
A. Convenience B. Most accurate C. Low cost C. High quality E. Ruggedness
2. Which quality is the least important to you regarding HP calculators?
A. Convenience B. Most accurate C. Low cost C. High quality E. Ruggedness
3. Which single area would you like to see more HP research and development resources expended?
A. Longer battery life B. Larger more readable displays C. More reliable memory
D. More testing before new products are released E. Greater math accuracy
4. If HP were to re-release a legacy calculator which model would be most appealing to you?
A. HP-15C B. HP-42S C. HP-16C D. HP-71B
5. Do you expect that a programmable machine like the HP35s should have a form of program loading and backup such as a USB port or SD card? A. YES B. NO
6. How important is the keyboard design of having a raised edge around the keyboard to protect the keys such as used for the Classic, Woodstock, Sting, Roo, Titan, Spice, Nut, Voyager, pioneer, and Charlemagne series machines? A. Very important B. Not very important C. Unimportant
D. Doesn't matter
7. How important is the use of soft menu keys? A. Very important B. Not very important
C. Unimportant D. Doesn't matter
8. If you could describe what you expect of HP calculators in a single word or concise phrase what would that be?

9. How important are unit conversions? A. Very important B. Not very important
C. Unimportant D. Doesn't matter
10. Have you written a program on an HP calculator in the last year? A. YES B. NO
11. How important is it that a financial calculator have basic scientific functions? A. Very important
B. Not very important C. Unimportant D. Doesn't matter
12. How many (approximately) HHC's have you previously attended? A. NONE B. 1 C. 2
D. 3-5 E. 5 – 7 F. 7 – 10 G. 11 – 15. H. 15 – 20 I. >20.
13. If this is your first HHC could you please tell us why you decided to attend this year? _____

Name (optional) _____ and I am from _____